CIGARETTE STUBS CLUE TO MURDER

Believed Key to Mystery in W. D. Taylor Killing

MAY SOLVE MOVIE TRAGEDY

Stranger Seen at Director's Home by Mrs. MacLean

LOS ANGELES—(Associated Press)—A half dozen cigarette stubs offered today the key to a mystery which for 24 hours has been deeper than any developed in his work by William Desmond Taylor, noted motion picture director, slain Wednesday night at his home here. These half smoked remains found near the back door of his luxuriously appointed residence, according to investigators, give mute evidence that some man apparently waited nervously there on the evening of the murder.

They link with statements by Mrs. Douglas MacLean, wife of a motion picture actor, that on the evening of the murder she heard a shot fired, and looking from the window of her home, which overlooks that of Taylor, saw a man, stranger to her, emerge from the front door of Taylor's home, look back and apparently speak, close the door and depart.

Another link is a statement by oil employees, in a station nearby, that an hour prior to that time, a stranger whom they describe similarly, asked them where W. D. Taylor lived and they directed him to a place where the shooting later occurred.

The crew of a street car added information that at a time closely corresponding to that which Mrs. MacLean gives as of the departure of the mystery man from Taylor's house, a stranger boarded the car at a stop close by, at which passengers rarely boarded a car. They describe him similarly.

These revelations only served to deepen the mystery, for Mrs. MacLean said the stranger was not the former servant of Taylor, whom she knew and for whom the police are seeking. Taylor reported to the police some time ago that this man had stolen property and money from him. The porch light of Taylor's home was on and Mrs. MacLean observed him in his full glow.

The movements of this stranger coincide with the visit of Mabel Normand, motion picture actress, to Taylor's home on the evening of the murder. Taylor escorted Miss Normand to her motor car and talked a few minutes with her there. The front door of his home was open.

Investigators suggest that the stranger who had been waiting for an opportunity to get at Taylor, apparently entered the apartment while the door was open and Taylor was out talking to Miss Normand.

The time Miss Normand fixed as that of her departure closely corresponds to the time Mrs. MacLean fixes as having heard the shot, an indication possibly, investigators say, that the stranger shot Taylor immediately after Taylor returned to the house and seated himself before his desk to continue work on his income tax statement.

Miss Edna Purviance, motion picture actress, who occupies a two-story bungalow similar to that of Taylor in the same court or group of buildings, informed police that she returned home about midnight Wednesday and observed lights burning in Taylor's home. She said she thought nothing of it, as she knew Taylor to be a reader who often remained up late. She said she was awakened the following morning by screams of Taylor's neighbors, who upon reporting for work at Taylor's house discovered the body of his employer and fled shrieking down the street.

ALERT SOUGHT
The search by police for Edward and, former valet-secretary of Taylor, for whom warrants on charges of grand larceny were obtained by Taylor several weeks ago, extends to Reno and Sacramento, according to the police, altho Sands was known to have been here recently.

JOEY STOLEN FROM TAYLOR'S RESIDENCE
Jewelry stolen from Taylor's residence was pawned in Fresno and Sacramento and the pawn tickets, 14 Christmas and New Year's greetings were returned to Taylor. Taylor is reporting this to police, recently told that he recognized the handwriting as that of Sands.

Sands, according to a report made year ago by Taylor on his return from Europe, robbed him of jewelry, clothing and an automobile.

Sands, Taylor then reported, had been in charge of the Taylor household and had taken many things and money. A warrant on two charges of grand larceny was issued August 3. The second robbery of the house reported to the police was several weeks ago. The rear door was smashed in and the place thoroughly ransacked and a stock of distinctive gold and silver cigarette cases, and according to the report to the police, a week later the negro housemaid and a gold tipped cigarette of this type on the doorstep which Taylor reported to the police as an indication that the robber had revisited the place.

This was followed by receipt of a letter signed "Alias Jimmy V." apparently mailed in Sacramento, in which tickets of jewelry pawned in

WEDS 3 TIMES IN 18 MONTHS

For the third time in 18 months, Mrs. Sid Hatfield, of Matewan, W. Va., has married. Her first husband was C. C. Testerman, mayor of Matewan. He was killed in 1920 in a gun battle between townsfolk and imported detectives. Her second husband was Sid Hatfield, former Matewan police chief, indicted in connection with a gun fight and shot and killed in a battle as he was mounting the court house steps on the way to stand trial. Now the 35-year-old widow has married S. H. Perry, sergeant in the state constabulary.

EXTRA PRECAUTION TAKEN

Second Ballot Results in no Election of Pope

ROME—(Associated Press)—Voting for the election of a pope to succeed Benedict XV was begun by the conclave of the sacred college today. Two ballots had been taken up to one o'clock this afternoon, on neither of which any cardinal received a sufficient number of votes to elect.

Fifty-three members of the sacred college assembled in the historicistine chapel today to cast their ballots in the election of the new pope. The doors of the vatican were closed yesterday with the centuries old ceremony, to remain shut until the next pontiff is chosen.

CARDINAL HAS FLU
Cardinal Marini, who has influenza, was taken into the vatican before the doors were closed. It had been thought he would be unable to attend.

Four ballots will be taken daily instead of two, as has been the rule. It is learned thru the Irish college, and confirmed in other quarters, that the results of the various ballots from leaking out before the conclave is over. Greatest care was taken in securing the doors and reinforcing the partitions which shut the area of the conclave from the rest of the palace. The need for this was shown yesterday when it was reported that a newspaper correspondent had virtually closed arrangements with a waiter to take over his place in an effort to gain first knowledge of the proceedings.

GUARD AGAINST LEAKS
Prince Chigi, marshal of the conclave, and Cardinal Gasparri, the camerlengo, or acting head of the church, have taken precautions to prevent the results of the various ballots from leaking out before the conclave is over. Greatest care was taken in securing the doors and reinforcing the partitions which shut the area of the conclave from the rest of the palace. The need for this was shown yesterday when it was reported that a newspaper correspondent had virtually closed arrangements with a waiter to take over his place in an effort to gain first knowledge of the proceedings.

LORAIN—Substantial relief for Lorain's unemployed, was in sight today.

SOLDIERS BATTLE STRIKERS FREEDOM FOR CHINA WON

Plenary Session of Conference Called for Tomorrow

PARLEY MAY END MONDAY

All Treaties Expected to be Completed Saturday

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press).—Plans were made today for the attendance of President Harding at a plenary session of the arms conference next Monday to witness the signings of the treaties, to thank the delegates for their work and to participate generally in the activities marking adjournment of the conference.

WASHINGTON.—(United Press).—The final plenary session of the arms conference was called today by Secretary of State Hughes to meet tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock.

Japan has released her strangle hold on China. Now the Chinese themselves say it is "up to China to prove it can run its own affairs."

Japan's "bombshell" in the closing days of the arms conference—voluntary surrender of group five of the 21 demands, plus an offer to open up to the consortium the territory of south Manchuria and inner Mongolia means, when taken with the Shantung settlement, that China has more freedom than at any time in the last 50 years.

CLOSING NEAR
The Washington conference is now in its closing hours. Committee approval of the Far Eastern treaties was expected this afternoon.

Following the plenary session, tomorrow, it is proposed to have a day of signing treaties at the state department. Monday. Then delegates will begin to hurry for home.

On the whole, it was admitted the Chinese were going home with fuller pockets and gladder hearts than they had expected when the conference opened.

OBSTACLE REMOVED
Japan's latest voluntary offer removes the work of the 21 demands while other decisions have already emasculated a large portion of them.

The offer to open up to the consortium the regions of South Manchuria and inner Mongolia is tantamount to relaxation of the Japanese grasp on the territories, for with the consortium operating Japan's hold there cannot be maintained.

Group five gave Japan valuable mining concessions and aimed at Japanese domination in China by use of Japanese officials, police and teachers.

Iron Concern at Wauseon to Employ 100 Men

CHANGES IN FUNDING BILL ARE ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON—Senate amendments to the allied debt refunding bill were accepted today by the house. The measure now goes to the president, who is expected to appoint soon the commission which is to open negotiations with the debtor nations.

Administration objections to the senate requirements that the refunding obligations mature not later than June 15, 1947, and that the minimum interest rate be 4 1/2 per cent, were withdrawn after White House conferences between the president and Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee, and Secretary Mellon of the treasury department.

Neither the administrator nor republican leaders of the house favored the senate changes, but it was explained that they had decided to accept them, because there would be further delay in final enactment of the legislation if the bill were sent to conference.

BONUS WARRANTS SIGNED
COLUMBUS—Director Robert R. Roberts, in charge of the administration of the Ohio soldier bonus, began signing warrants today for distribution to ex-service men thru out the state. The warrants are dated February 15 and will be mailed out about the tenth of the month. They may be cashed at any bank on the fifteenth.

NORRIS MAY QUIT

Senator Resents Administration's Fight on Bloc

WASHINGTON.—(United Press).—The Harding administration has been successful to an unexpected degree in its efforts to break up the powerful farm bloc in congress.

This is admitted by farm bloc leaders themselves.

Disgusted by the undermining of the senate farm bloc, Senator Norris, of Nebraska, may resign as chairman of the senate agriculture committee. If Norris resigns, it will be protest first against the administration's efforts to destroy the bloc and second against the action of some bloc members who in Norris' opinion have weakened too easily under administration pressure.

Norris was deeply stirred by Senator Kenyon's acceptance of a federal judgeship which took from the farm bloc its official chairman and one of its strongest members.

Reports indicated last night that there were at least 30 men in the section at the time of the explosion, all of whom could be accounted for with the exception of three or four men.

No hope was held out for the miners who could not be found, but work continued energetically thru out last night and this morning, 7 parties digging at site and coal falls in an effort to recover the remaining bodies.

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS BECAUSE OF FAILURE TO CATCH PETTICOAT THIEF

BARBERTON, Ohio.—Al Eby, chief of police here, admitted defeat today after a five-year effort to capture Barberton's "phantom thief."

"I can't catch him and I have been razzed enough," Eby said, announcing he had resigned as chief, effective March 15. "I am thru."

The "phantom" at large here for more than five years, specializes in stealing silk petticoats. He takes nothing else. He is known to have committed 54 burglaries, but victims for months have not even taken the trouble to report his activities.

The thief has been shot at and chased and once was captured by a minister, but escaped, slipping down a water spout.

Existing rates were held to be unjust and unreasonable.

ARMY TANKS USED IN LABOR WAR

Fight Follows When Soldiers Rush to Kentucky Mill

HOMES PIERCED BY BULLETS

Families Flee to Cellars as Fight Rages

NEWPORT, Ky.—(Associated Press).—New relief was felt here today when reports were received that unit after unit of Kentucky National Guardsmen had detrained to take up posts at the Newport rolling mill where disorder has broken out as a result of the strike of union steel men.

Four hundred soldiers, ordered here by Governor Edwin F. Morrow, will be on duty by nightfall in the vicinity of the mill.

Cavalrymen will be used to patrol the entire city of Newport.

Whether or not this step is preliminary to a declaration of military law in the city could not be learned.

BIG GUNS IN USE

Quiet prevailed in Newport early today, except for intermittent shooting in the vicinity of the Newport rolling mill where a strike is in progress, and where a tank company of sixty officers and men with seven tanks are on guard, assisting deputy sheriffs and Newport police to maintain order.

Shortly before two o'clock this morning, a flurry was caused when sniping from outside the mill was followed by firing from machine and riot guns inside the plant. The guns were turned toward the Covington bank of the Licking River. More than one hundred shots were fired; it was said, but no casualties were reported altho one bullet struck a soldier's helmet.

SHERIFF FIRED UPON

A sheriff, Safety Commissioner Thompson was taken to police headquarters in a patrol wagon after he had attempted to disperse an assembly of strike sympathizers and had been menaced.

Sheriff Louis B. Tieman then went to the scene to talk with the disturbers and was grazed by a bullet fired by a sniper.

Every window in the confectionery store of Mrs. Maymo Murphy at Ninth and Brighton-sts was shattered by bullets fired last night. The occupants of the house fled to safety, deserting their home.

Mrs. Frank Bahman, who owns a grocery at Ninth and Patterson-sts, took her two daughters and son and hid in the cellar after several shots had swept thru the store and one bullet had just grazed her head.

Many other families sought refuge in their cellars or left their homes and took refuge in other parts of the city with friends or neighbors.

FRANKFORD, Ky.—(Associated Press).—With the Covington tank company, in control, upwards of 300 Kentucky national guardsmen today are in or en route to Newport, Ky., having been ordered out late yesterday by Governor Morrow for strike duty.

That the troops, sent there for the second time within five weeks, will not be withdrawn soon unless order is restored completely was indicated by the order to command of officers not to take men who could not remain there indefinitely.

The troops were withdrawn from Newport ten days ago after having been there since December 24.

WAGES TOO LOW FOR BEHEADING CRIMINALS, EXECUTIONERS DECLARE

BERLIN.—The public executioners at Karlsruhe and Baden, following the lead of their comrades at Mannheim, have notified the ministry of justice that they will go on strike unless their pay is increased. They declare it impossible to behead criminals properly at the present prices.

STATE TO MAKE $300,000 ON DEAL WITH STEEL CO.

COLUMBUS.—Under a new canal lease entered into by the state and the American Steel and Wire Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, is to realize a net profit in excess of $300,000, according to a statement issued at the governor's office, from canal property.

The new arrangement calls for the payment by the Cleveland company for an annual rental of $15,000 for water and land rights, for the maintenance of the canal by the company and for the assumption by it of responsibility of furnishing water to seven other concerns which pay the state $10,000 a year rental. The company is to spend $25,000 at once on necessary improvements.

Under the former lease the state received an annual rental of $12,000 but the state was required to pay cost of maintenance and improvements which almost entirely wiped out the rental money.

COTTAGE TO BE "LOVE NEST"

Unusual Wedding Will Take Place Tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA.—(Special)—An international romance, the details of which read more like a narrative of the day's news, culminates tomorrow in the marriage of Anastase Andrievitch Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky, now a workman in a great locomotive works near Philadelphia, and Mrs. Marian B. Stephens, heiress to $40,000,000 and a society woman of New York, Chicago and Paris.

And to top the affair off in typical George M. Cohan style, the multi-millionaire heiress and her picturesque husband-to-be will go to house-keeping in a "Love Nest"—a little cottage in Ridley Park, Pa., so that the groom can be near the locomotive plant where he "works for a living."

The wedding ceremony will be performed at 4 p. m. in the Greek Orthodox Church on East Ninety-Sixth Street, New York.

Mrs. Stephens, who is 45, is the daughter of the late Norman D. Ream, one of the organizers of the United States Steel Corporation, and the former wife of Redmond D. Stephens, a well-known Chicago lawyer and clubman.

It was partly thru Mrs. Stephens' fondness for travel that she met the 23-year-old Russian-Pole who is to be her second husband.

But let young Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky tell the extraordinary story of this romance. He is employed now at the job of testing material for locomotives in the course of construction at the plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Edinboro on the outskirts of Philadelphia.

"I was born 23 years ago in Warsaw, Poland. My people owned vast estates there. My great-grandmother, 73 years ago, aided the Russians against the Poles, and was rewarded by the czar with a great grant of land.

"My father was Andre Vonsiatzky, chief of the gendarmery (military police) of Warsaw under the Russian regime. He was shot and killed in an uprising in 1910.

"I was dedicated to the army. I was in a military academy when the war broke out in 1914. I was wounded then in a fight. But I was not too young when the Revolution broke out. I fled from the Bolsheviks and joined the army of Korniloff, the counter-revolutionists. When Korniloff was beaten, I fought with Denikin. When Denikin was beaten, I fought with Wrangel, who was a lieutenant of the Uhlars.

"I was wounded four times. Even now, in my abdomen I have a Bolshevik bullet.

COTTAGE TO BE "LOVE NEST"

Unusual Wedding Will Take Place Tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA.—(Special)—An international romance, the details of which read more like a narrative of the day's news, culminates tomorrow in the marriage of Anastase Andrievitch Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky, now a workman in a great locomotive works near Philadelphia, and Mrs. Marian B. Stephens, heiress to $40,000,000 and a society woman of New York, Chicago and Paris.

And to top the affair off in typical George M. Cohan style, the multi-millionaire heiress and her picturesque husband-to-be will go to house-keeping in a "Love Nest"—a little cottage in Ridley Park, Pa., so that the groom can be near the locomotive plant where he "works for a living."

The wedding ceremony will be performed at 4 p. m. in the Greek Orthodox Church on East Ninety-Sixth Street, New York.

Mrs. Stephens, who is 45, is the daughter of the late Norman D. Ream, one of the organizers of the United States Steel Corporation, and the former wife of Redmond D. Stephens, a well-known Chicago lawyer and clubman.

It was partly thru Mrs. Stephens' fondness for travel that she met the 23-year-old Russian-Pole who is to be her second husband.

But let young Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky tell the extraordinary story of this romance. He is employed now at the job of testing material for locomotives in the course of construction at the plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Edinboro on the outskirts of Philadelphia.

"I was born 23 years ago in Warsaw, Poland. My people owned vast estates there. My great-grandmother, 73 years ago, aided the Russians against the Poles, and was rewarded by the czar with a great grant of land.

"My father was Andre Vonsiatzky, chief of the gendarmery (military police) of Warsaw under the Russian regime. He was shot and killed in an uprising in 1910.

"I was dedicated to the army. I was in a military academy when the war broke out in 1914. I was wounded then in a fight. But I was not too young when the Revolution broke out. I fled from the Bolsheviks and joined the army of Korniloff, the counter-revolutionists. When Korniloff was beaten, I fought with Denikin. When Denikin was beaten, I fought with Wrangel, who was a lieutenant of the Uhlars.

"I was wounded four times. Even now, in my abdomen I have a Bolshevik bullet.

ARMY TANKS USED IN LABOR WAR

Fight Follows When Soldiers Rush to Kentucky Mill

HOMES PIERCED BY BULLETS

Families Flee to Cellars as Fight Rages

NEWPORT, Ky.—(Associated Press)—New relief was felt here today when reports were received that unit after unit of Kentucky National Guardsmen had detrained to take up posts at the Newport rolling mill where disorder has broken out as a result of the strike of union steel men.

Four hundred soldiers, ordered here by Governor Edwin P. Morrow, will be on duty by nightfall in the vicinity of the mill.

Cavalrymen will be used to patrol the entire city of Newport. Whether or not this step is preliminary to a declaration of military law in the city could not be learned.

Quiet prevailed in Newport early today, except for intermittent shooting in the vicinity of the Newport rolling mill where a strike is in progress, and where a tank company of sixty officers and men with seven tanks are on guard, assisting deputy sheriffs and Newport police to maintain order.

Shortly before two o'clock this morning, a flurry was caused when sniping from outside the mill was followed by firing from machine and riot guns inside the plant. The guns were turned toward the Covington bank of the Licking River. More than one hundred shots were fired; it was said, but no casualties were reported. One bullet struck a soldier's helmet.

SHERIFF FIRED UPON Sheriff Louis B. Tieman then went to the scene to talk with the disturbers and was grazed by a bullet fired by a sniper.

Every window in the confectionery store of Mrs. Mayne Murphy at Ninth and Brighton-sets was shattered by bullets fired last night. The occupants of the house fled to safety, deserting their home.

Mrs. Frank Lahlman, who owns a grocery at Ninth and Patterson-sets, took her two daughters and son and hid in the cellar after several shots had swept thru the store and one child had been grazed.

Many other families sought refuge in their cellars or left their homes and took refuge in other parts of the city with friends or neighbors.

TROOPS ORDERED FRANKFORT, Ky.—(Associated Press)—With the Covington tank company, in control, upwards of 200 Kentucky national guardsmen today are in en route to Newport, Ky., having been ordered out last yesterday by Governor Morrow for strike duty.

That the troops, sent there for the second time within five weeks, will not be withdrawn soon unless order is restored completely was indicated by the order to commanding officers not to take men who could not remain there indefinitely.

The troops were withdrawn from Newport ten days ago after having been there since December 24.

WAGES TOO LOW FOR BEHEADING CRIMINALS, EXECUTIONERS DECLARE BERLIN.—The public executioners at Karlsruhe and Baden, following the lead of their comrades at Mannheim, have notified the ministry of justice that they will go on strike unless their pay is increased. They declare it impossible to behead criminals properly at the present prices.

STATE TO MAKE $300,000 ON DEAL WITH STEEL CO. COLUMBUS—Under a new canal lease entered into by the state and the American Steel and Wire Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, is to realize a net profit in excess of $300,000, according to a statement issued at the governor's office, from canal property.

The new arrangement calls for the payment by the Cleveland company for an annual rental of $15,000 for water and land rights, for the maintenance of the canal by the company and for the assumption by it of responsibility of furnishing water to seven other concerns which pay the state $10,000 a year rental. The company is to spend $25,000 at once on necessary improvements.

Under the former lease the state received an annual rental of $12,000 but the state was required to pay cost of maintenance and improvements which almost entirely wiped out the rental money.

THRESHERMEN MEET TOLEDO—Threshermen from 25 northern Ohio and 15 southern Michigan counties opened their fourth annual convention in the Terminal Auditorium here today. The principal speakers on the two day program are: A. R. Fisher, president of the Ohio Brotherhood of Threshermen; Thomas B. Walker, chairman of the convention, and B. A. Dickey, secretary of the Michigan Threshermen's Association.

MELLONS' BONUS PLAN ACCEPTED

House Committee Agrees to Special Tax Proposal

MAY MEAN 3-CENT MAIL

Suggested Levy on Autos is Abandoned

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Secretary Mellon's demands that special taxes be imposed to raise funds for the soldiers' bonus bill will be accepted by congress, members of the house ways and means committee, framing the bonus bill, virtually decided today.

Where the special taxes will be placed is the difficult problem which the committee now faces. This, it was said, will be worked out by a process of elimination thru which the committee hopes to hit upon the taxes that will be the least objectionable to the people and the easiest to collect.

AUTO TAX ABANDONED

The proposals that a tax of 50 cents per horsepower be levied on automobiles and one or two cents a gallon put on gasoline, will be discarded by the bonus framers, it was indicated. The committee also decided the forecasted two-cent tax on bank checks would be too much of a nuisance and the overhead expenses too great to make it practical.

This leaves the proposition of the three-cent first class mail and an increase in charges for second class mail, taxes on documents, cigarettes and tobacco and chewing gum and possibly an increased tax on inheritance and gifts as the sources of revenue most likely to be tapped. The proposition of a general sales tax, it was indicated, will be abandoned by the committee, because of the volume of opposition.

The proposal that a tax on beer and wines be considered as a means of providing the bonus money, was definitely turned down today after Levi Cook, Washington attorney, and Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the Anti-Saloon League, had clashed before the committee on the merits of the plan.

It was also learned that the bonus question was to be discussed at the cabinet meeting today.

LOCAL RESIDENTS TO GET RURAL CARRIER POSITIONS

Principle of the local resident for the local job is further carried out by a ruling of the civil service commission in Washington. Postmaster A. E. Gale was informed Friday.

Hereafter, the commission states, only persons who have their residence within the delivery of the office in which the vacancy exists will be certified for rural carrier appointment. Hereafter certification has been made of eligible residents within the delivery of any office in the entire country in which the vacancy office is situated.

VICTORY ARRESTED AS THIRD MAN IN ROBBERY

Albert Victory, 26, Ninth-st., sought for almost three weeks by L. E. & W. detectives in connection with the theft of 23,000 pounds of pigiron from an interstate shipment, was taken at 10:10 a. m. Friday by Officers Kipker, Reed and Watkins, thru a tip received at headquarters.

MEN AND MATTERS

A thousand men, organizing a drive in Oregon, killed 10,000 rabbits in a drive on January 23, according to a letter received by C. M. Salisbury, 238 S. Pine-st., from Leslie Mayberry, who recently visited with relatives here.

Harry Kruger of the Leader store ready-to-wear department, leaves Sunday for New York on a buying trip.

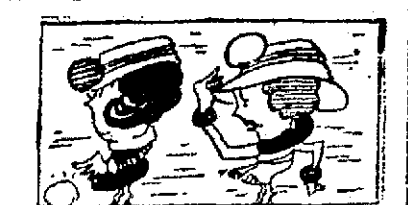

Wilbur Cherry, Metropolitan-bk. member of the Ohio Detective Bureau, has been reappointed for a period of three years, by M. P. McGill, Columbus, superintendent. Cherry's commission expires February 5, 1925.

Charles Loar, 1036 Reese-av., is at City hospital, where he has been receiving treatment for a week. His condition is reported to be unchanged.

WINDGUSTS ARE TEMPER TESTERS

On blustery days there is recalled an old saying that "the wind blows dust in the naughty man's eye," but when one lumps numerous scantily clad females on the streets, the observation is forced that "the wind isn't tempered to the shorn lamb."

Persistent effort of the forecaster to stage a comeback with rain or snow continue to fall flat, while sunshine and cold prevails, accompanied by persistent gales that try the tempers of mankind.

Hats are yanked from heads of pedestrians by frisky zephyrs of a blitting character, while dust clouds and soot particles are awirled everywhere. Hat holding is a necessary diversion in the open. Those who fail to look after the security of their hats are due for a chase thru the street for their recovery after being lifted by windkicks.

Forecast for tonight and Saturday is generally fair, except for probable snow flurries near Lake Erie. Not much change in temperature.

CIGARETTE STUBS CLUE TO MURDER

Fresno and Sacramento were enclosed.

WOMAN SUSPECTED

LOS ANGELES—(Associated Press)—Revenge, jealousy, hate and unrequited love all were considered by the police today in continuing their search for the slayer of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, whose body was found yesterday in his apartment here.

While the meagre clues obtained so far pointed chiefly to the commitment of the crime by a man, the detectives working on the case said they believed it possible that Taylor had been killed by a woman.

Their hunt was largely centered along three lines, it was said: The trail of the skulking figure of a man seen around the director's apartments both before and after neighbors heard a shot in the night; the whereabouts of a former servant arrested for the alleged robbery of the director's body; and reports to have threatened revenge; and the sender of an anonymous letter in which were enclosed pawn tickets for articles stolen from Taylor.

MANY QUESTIONED

Every person known to have been in or near the apartments where Taylor's body, with a bullet wound in the neck, was found yesterday, has been closely questioned in the search for clues to the murderer.

These persons range from Henry Peavey, Taylor's negro houseman, to Mabel Normand, motion picture actress, while others prominent in the film industry whose names were brought into newspapers in connection with the director's death included Edna Purviance, and Mary Miles Minter, also motion picture actresses.

Peavey gave the police an account of his finding the body and of his spreading the alarm.

STANLEY MAY SEEN Miss Normand, who was one of the last to see the director alive, told of a call she made at his apartments the night before in connection with a book Taylor had loaned her. Her chauffeur corroborated her account of the visit which included the statement that Taylor had accompanied her to her automobile when he left.

Mrs. Douglas MacLean, wife of a film actor, and her maid, related having seen a heavy, strange man dressed in dark clothes and wearing a cap and muffler, skulking about the place.

The detectives said early today they had learned that Taylor had been aware he was being watched and once recently had seen a man outside his bedroom window late at night.

PICTURES IN HOME Taylor had directed many actors prominent in the film world, including Miss Minter and Mary Pickford. Pictures of the two and that of Miss Normand occupied prominent places in his apartment.

Miss Normand last night denied a report she had been engaged to marry Taylor, but later, according to another newspaper interviewer, stated they had once been engaged, but had decided to "be merely friends."

Going into considerable detail as to her call at the Taylor apartment the night before he was killed, Miss Normand said it was in answer to a telephone call from him regarding a book. She told how she had purchased some light magazines and five cents worth of peanuts, which she ate on the way.

Leading directors and others in the industry are said to be planning to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Taylor.

DRY WORKERS IN STATE MEETING

Echoes of Columbus Parley to be Heard Here Feb. 14

LIMA PEOPLE TO ATTEND

Better Enforcement of Law is Planned

Echoes of an anti-saloon law enforcement convention in Columbus, February 9 and 10, will be heard in Lima February 14, at a meeting of the Francis Willard union. The Columbus dry convulse is expected to be the biggest gathering of its kind ever held in the state.

Mrs. Loreta Durbin, head of the Francis Willard union, who was absent from the city in Carey, could not be reached Friday for a statement on local preparations. Neither could Mrs. D. R. Cook, head of the county W. C. T. U. organization, be reached. It was stated unofficially, however, by dry workers that an Allen-co delegation will attend the state meeting.

LAW MUST BE ENFORCED

Object of the conference is to bring about more respect for prohibition laws and in the minds of officials a realization that law must be enforced. Evangelical churches throughout the state and temperance organizations are asked to send delegates.

Women prosecutors who are declared to have taken a big part in enforcing prohibition, will be guests. Among the "fighting prosecutors" will be Mary Davey, the 100-pound woman prosecuting attorney of Hocking-co., famous for removing the "boot" from "boot-ogler."

Other women guests will be Florence E. Allen, common pleas judge, Frank E. Willis, assistant prosecuting attorney, and Judge of Cleveland and Mayor Amy U. S. Attorney General Goff, State Attorney General John G. Price, "Pussfoot" Johnson and Harry A. Caton, master of the Ohio grange.

INSIGNIA PLANNED

Only those whose homes are 100 per cent dry are eligible to receive the new dry insignia—a blue star on a white background—to be distributed by the Willard union, according to officials of the organization.

According to Mrs. F. H. Moore, Friday, the banners will be ordered at the meeting February 14. If you shun medicines that have a drop of alcohol and shudder at plum puddings and mince pies that have a wee nip in them, you are eligible, dry workers declare.

UNCLE SAM SAVES $32,000,000

Result of Budget System, Says President Harding

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Announcing prospects of a surplus of governmental receipts over expenditures this fiscal year as a result of economies in administration, President Harding speaking today at the second business meeting of the government officials, declared he doubted "if any government in the world has made a more persistent and conscientious endeavor to cut down its expenditures and substitute economies and restore sane and normal ways again" than has the American government.

The president and Director Dawes of the budget who followed him, announced to the meeting composed of more than a thousand governmental officials of high and low degree that direct savings of $32,000,000 and indirect savings of more than $104,000,000 had been accomplished in less than six months thru the operation alone of the budget bureau's co-ordinating agencies.

Harding expressed the further opinion that the efforts on the part of the government toward economy had been reflected among the people at large. "I cannot but feel the government has in this budget organization set an example of care and thrift that has helped greatly to make saving fashionable. If to some extent the government has been a leader in so praiseworthy a cause, we ought all to be gratified to have had a part in the affair. Much of the extravagance of government has been due to a lack of sense of individual responsibility and the same is true on the corporate business and the private affairs of people. If our efforts here shall set a standard and inspire an ambition for greater economies and higher efficiency we shall have served not only the government, but the whole public particularly well. Perhaps our example will be of service to the world."

JOINT UNION MEET PROBABLE

Rail Men May Attend the Miners' Conference

CLEVELAND—(United Press)—"It is quite certain the 'big four' brotherhoods of railway workers will workers will attend the joint conference with mine union officials, proposed by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America," Warren S. Stone, chief of the Locomotive Engineers, told the United Press today.

Stone added, however, a definite decision to attend the combined session of the two largest labor groups in the country, would not be reached until the "big four" brotherhood leaders meet here next Monday or Tuesday.

"We shall be glad to talk with anybody," Stone declared in commenting on Lewis' invitation which he had today.

He would not state the purpose of the conference, tho it was intimated plans for combating wage slashes proposed by carriers and operators would be outlined.

If the invitation is accepted by the brotherhoods, it is probable railroad officials said, the joint conference would be held in Chicago within the next ten days.

Some fears had been expressed the "big four" leaders would decline to attend the meeting of the 16 standard unions and the coal miners, but Stone's statement today apparently removed all obstacles and assured convening of the meeting.

A close alliance of railroads and miners, for combined opposition to wage cutting, is expected to be the chief outcome of the joint conference.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP ISN'T LOST ART, SUTTON PROVES

If you found your best friend asleep on the bare, iron of a jail bunk and shivering from the cold, what would you do? Would you take the blanket off your own bed and cover your friend with it?

That is what William Sutton, attorney, did for his lawyer friend, Guy Kilten, 50, of 841 W. Wayne-st., Thursday night, according to the story told Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court, Friday morning, proving that true friendship is not a lost art.

Kiltlen was arrested Thursday night on the public square and locked up on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Sutton came to the jail and found him suffering with cold, so he went home, drew the blanket off his own bed, came back and covered his friend with it, according to Kiltlen's story before Jackson.

Kiltlen pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

HARMON WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE

Refuses to Seek Nomination for Governor

JUDGE NICHOLS MAY RUN

General News Items Gathered From Ohio Cities

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — In an authorized statement given out here today by former Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols of the supreme court, former Governor Judson Harmon declared he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The statement given out by Judge Nichols follows:

"I am authorized by Governor Harmon to state that he cannot consent to become a candidate for the nomination for the office of governor of Ohio. His decision in this respect is irrevocable and therefore must be accepted by the people of Ohio as final.

"Governor Harmon feels, in justice to those who might aspire to the Democratic nomination for governor, that this statement should no longer be withheld.

"He most deeply appreciates the generous tender of support from all quarters of the state and keenly regrets the disappointment which he realizes this announcement will cause his friends."

Judge Nichols refuses to discuss the probability of his becoming a candidate now that Governor Harmon has definitely eliminated himself. It is the general belief among close followers of politics that Judge Nichols will be a candidate.

HEARING CONTINUED

ABRAHAM LINCOLN STORY IN MOVIES TO BE SHOWN FREE ON FEBRUARY 12

Success of free movies in Lima has been so pronounced, declared Spencer C. Biddle, industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Friday, he has booked an Abraham Lincoln photoplay for the Great Emancipator's birthday, February 12. It will be a two-act chapter of the rail splitter's life, featuring Chaplin, the noted Lincoln impersonator, and will be shown at Memorial Hall.

Over 1,600 persons have already seen Shirley Mason in "The Lamp-lighter," Biddle said. Six hundred were at Lincoln engine house Thursday night and the same number is expected at the South Side engine house Friday night.

Through courtesy of the Majestic theater management the feature will be screened there at 10 a. m. Saturday. Seven hundred will attend, Biddle believes. The last showing will be made at West Cairo Saturday night. The film will be returned Monday, the industrial secretary declared.

Including imitations of public institutions, a total of approximately 3,200 persons will have enjoyed "The Lamp-lighter" after the Saturday night showing, Biddle said.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS HELD CAUSE FOR FALLING OFF IN MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriages in Allen co. in 1922, will be fewer than in 1921 if records for the first month are any indication.

According to figures just compiled by Miss Jessie Miller, marriage license clerk, in January, 1921 forty-five licenses were issued.

In January of this year there were 31.

"This is the smallest number of licenses issued in January in the past six years," Miss Miller says.

Seven years ago but 30 licenses were taken out. In January of 1920, fifty-four couples secured licenses to marry.

Business depression over the country is believed to have affected the marriage license market, officials say.

GERMAN SOLDIER MEETS TRIALS

Forced Into Service of Kaiser, He Comes to America

ST. MARYS — Kettlersville, in Shelby-co. south of here, is now the place of residence of a former soldier who served in the German army against the allies. The story of Herman Dingler reads like a romance.

For five years prior to the outbreak of the world war, Dingler was located in Kansas. Having accumulated a sufficient amount of money to bring his family to America, he left for Germany in 1914. Arriving there, he found that in view of the fact he had not been a naturalized citizen of the United States, he was still a subject of Germany.

He was inducted into the army and after fighting against the Russians for some months, was captured and taken, with 4,000 other prisoners, to Siberia, where he was held for four and a half years. Only 240 of the 4,000 men survived.

Returning to Germany, Dingler converted his property into money and was preparing to leave with his family for America, when he was again pressed into service, owing to the fact that Germany was still at war with America. Dingler was sent to Argentina, South America, with his family, where he was stranded and in a penniless condition. Relief was afforded by William Quellhorst of Kettlersville shortly before Christmas. The family arrived at Kettlersville this week, after a voyage of 22 days. For three days after arriving in South America, the Dinglers were forced to go without food.

Dingler is a practical nurse and is an experienced decorator. The family will make their home in Kettlersville.

NEW TESTIMONY TO BE USED BY CITY IN ATTACK ON GAS RATE, LANDIS SAYS

Application for a re-hearing of the evidence in the Lima gas rate case before the public utilities commission has not been made to date. Solicitor Paul T. Landis said Friday.

Landis stated he has 30 days in which to file an application and will take ample time to look over the decision of the commission before preparing an appeal.

The city will introduce new testimony, attacking the rate of $1 per thousand feet granted by the commission, Landis said. If a re-hearing is refused, the city's only resort is to appeal to the Ohio Supreme court.

KEYS NEVER USED IN DIXIE TOWN

Not an Arrest for 10 Years in North Carolina Village

ONCE BLUEBEARD'S HOME

Rendezvous of Famous Gang
Century and Half Ago

OCRA COKE, N. C.—(Associated Press)—Altho this little town about a century and a half ago was the rendezvous of one of the world's most daring and famous gangs of crooks—Edward Teach (Bluebeard) and his band—it is today one community which the recent crime wave has not reached. There has not been an arrest here in more than ten years and the crimes of robbery, burglary, theft and murder are absolutely unknown to the population, insofar as they refer to Ocra Coke.

John Oneal, after holding office as justice of the peace at Ocra Coke for eight years, resigned a year or more ago, not having had a criminal case during his administration. A successor has never been elected. Mr. Oneal, who was born at Ocra Coke, says the worst crime he can recall to have occurred at Ocra Coke in 60 years was one of assault and battery.

LOCKS NOT NEEDED
There are only one or two homes here that have locks on the doors and the keys to those that are thus equipped are never used. Most of the houses at Ocra Coke were wholly or partially constructed with lumber of ships which were wrecked on the treacherous shoals off the North Carolina coast. Every family here owns their own home.

Ocra Coke is at the extreme southern end of a little island by the same name, located about 20 miles off the mainland of North Carolina, and is unique in many respects. Ocra Coke Island, which is part of Hyde Co., North Carolina, is a little strip of land about 11 miles long and ranges in width from one half to one and half miles. The population of the island numbers about 700, about 650 of whom live at Ocra Coke. Those who do not live in the little town are members of the families of coast guardsmen, who patrol the coast.

CARUSO'S SUCCESSOR

Selected to Sing at the Caruso
Memorial Services in New York City

New York Has Accepted Mario
Chamlee, An American, As Successor to Caruso

Chamlee, the young dramatic tenor, is an American, born and bred. His excellent gifts as a singer and actor, the perfection of his style and diction marked him as one set apart. There is freshness and vitality of youth in Chamlee's tones; a spontaneity and power in his wonderful high voice as unusual as it is satisfying.

In November, 1920, Chamlee made a brilliant debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, appearing as Mario Cavendish in "Tosca", and his brilliant success, in a wide range of principal roles with the Scotti Grand Opera Company is a matter of record. Public press from ocean to ocean acknowledge his histrionic as well as his vocal gifts, and he is far along on the path of fame.

CHAMLEE SINGS EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE BRUNSWICK
You can hear him on Brunswick records among which we suggest "A Perfect Day," (Carrie Jacobs Bond); "Elegie," (Massenet); "M'appari," (Liko a Mobile), (Flotow); "La Donna E. Diable," from Rigolotto.

2,000 FLAPPERS IN UNIVERSITY

Enrolled in California Institution, Y. W. Leader Says

DESCRIBED BY THE SPEAKER

Declares Such Girl is Stranger To Herself

BERKELEY, Calif.—(Associated Press).—Approximately 2,000 "Flappers" are on the University of California student rolls, Miss Mary Ide Bentley, former secretary of the San Francisco Young Women's Christian association, declared in an address here.

"Flappers," Miss Bentley said, "usually are girls who believe personality is physical, who consider all advice as abstract, who love continual change, who converse in generalities and who are in many higher institutions of learning."

"To present a picture of the normal girl as she exists today is a daring venture," Miss Bentley added. "She has no average, she has no group tie. She is a stranger to herself—sometimes especially to members of her own family—and cannot be compared with her kind of a previous age."

SPRIT OF MASQUERADE

"We are tempted to think of her as living in a spirit of masquerade so rapidly and completely can she assume different and difficult roles of accomplishment."

"She tantalizes us by the simplicity of her artfulness and yet unreality," she said. "The privilege of youth, she believes with Stevenson that to have missed the joy is to have missed it all. We find her harboring secrets and imbedded emotions which are her hidden treasure in the mysterious discovery of herself as a private individual. If we do not understand these symptoms we call it temperament and try to dispose of the girl as difficult or as 'needing discipline.'"

RUM SELLERS HIT BY OLD LAW

Provides Jail Sentence for Poison in Liquor

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press).—Two old laws providing penitentiary and all sentences for the manufacture and selling of liquor containing an active poison, and for adulterating or selling of adulterated liquor, are to be used in the prosecution of bootleggers in Ohio, according to announcement made today by officials of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League.

These laws, passed before the advent of prohibition, were almost forgotten until unearthed at Cleveland by Sheriff Stannard and Judge Walworth of the common pleas court. One statute provides a sentence of from one to five years on a conviction of selling or manufacturing liquor containing an active poison, and the other provides a workhouse sentence of from twenty to sixty days for adulterating or selling adulterated liquor.

Practically all bootleg liquor is adulterated or contains an active poison, the Anti-Saloon League officials pointed out. The old laws, they said, will make penitentiary and work house sentences possible in practically every bootleg case.

"Bootleggers who might otherwise get off with a fine can be prosecuted under the old laws and if convicted will have to be sent to jail," said one league official.

First prosecutions under these old laws are expected to be made in Cleveland, following a raid made Tuesday by the sheriff's office. Other such prosecutions will be started at once in other portions of the state, league officials said.

THREE EXTRAORDINARY ROMANCES - NEWS OF WORLD THRU EYE OF THE CAMERA

IN TANGLE OF YOUTH AND AGE—Mrs. Robert E. Dickerman, above, is suing her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank L. Dickerman, for $100,000, charging alienation of her husband's affections. Dickerman is 27. His wife, who is 47, was his Sunday School teacher at Somerville, Mass. Their courtship occurred when they were overseas during the World War.

A PROXY BRIDE MEETS HER HUSBAND—Mrs. Edward Tak, who was married to her husband when he was in New York and she was in Holland, was in his arms five seconds after the gangplank of her boat dropped in New York. Tak, a musician, sent his brother with power of attorney to marry Miss Sarah Speyer, daughter of an Amsterdam diamond dealer.

WINS BRIDE BY WINNING QUIZ—Samuel A. Halsey was the only man who answered all the questions of the famous Edison quiz correctly. Edison rated him A.A. Then he won the heart of Miss Charlotte W. Hawkins, sister of Mrs. Charles A. Edison, wife of the wizard's son. Photo shows him with his bride.

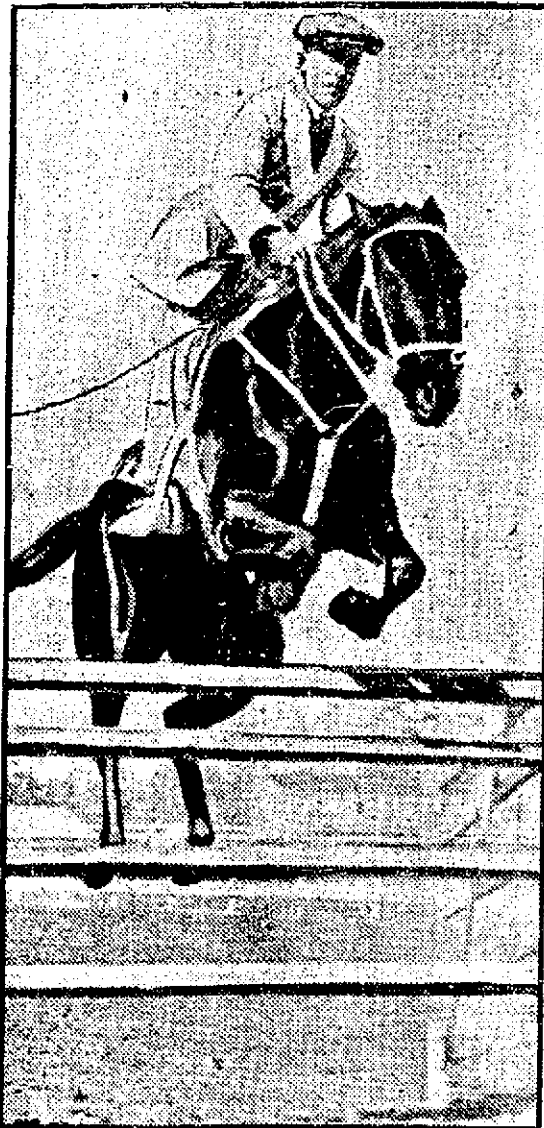

ON EUROPEAN TOUR—Miss Isabel Rockefeller, daughter of Percy A. Rockefeller and grandniece of John D., snapped on board the Catalina as she left for a tour of the Mediterranean.

REAL SPORT IN FLORIDA—All is not idling upon the beach and sipping cooling drinks under sunshades at the Florida resorts. For instance, there's the fellow taking a burble at Miss Jay's high school for horses at Jacksonville. And Mrs. Ernest S. Sarther, of Chicago, went fishing and caught a 175-pound turtle.

FRANCE BLOCKING WAY TO PEACE

Blow At Germans in Genoa Conference

BALKS AT ECONOMIC AID

J. W. T. Mason Comments on Situation Facing Trade Parley

This is the first of two articles by a recognized expert on the coming world economic conference at Genoa.

(BY J. W. T. MASON.)

Expert on International Relations WASHINGTON.—The summoning of the Genoa conference is the first move since the war to bring friends and enemies together in a concerted effort to save Europe.

The Genoa conference as originally planned called for invitations to Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Russia to send delegates to meet allies' representatives on a basis of equality.

If this arrangement is carried out,

Genoa, birthplace of Christopher Columbus, who discovered a new world, will mark the birthplace of a new Europe.

There can be no recovery for Europe among the trans-Atlantic nations. The nations across the ocean are just discovering that fact. All of them, however, are not yet convinced of its truth and for that reason the Genoa conference is being threatened with failure before it begins.

FRANCE BLOCKS PATH

France is blocking the way to peace at Genoa. Peace was not really signed at Versailles, according to the belief in France. Only an extended armistice was forced on the Germans, who are waiting their time to resume the war.

Therefore France wants no questions discussed at Genoa which in any way will strengthen Germany economically or financially. France believes as soon as the Germans get their strength back, they will begin a war of revenge.

France also insists that the Russians be allowed to attend the Genoa meeting, only as inferiors and on sufferance. France demands that the Russians pay their foreign debts before being admitted to an equality with other nations.

HIGH HOPES FADE

With France in this obstinate mood, the high hopes that the Genoa gathering would start Europe on the path of accelerated recovery are fading.

The nations in Europe which want the Genoa conference to be held for the purpose of co-operation all around declare that France instead of Germany is preparing for a new war in order to get permanent possession of the Rhine.

They also say France cannot let it be demanded that Russia's foreign debts be paid until France pays her own. France owes more money to foreign nations on which she is paying no interest whatever than Russia.

The Genoa conference may end in failure, but it will have marked a beginning. The original program of the Genoa conference eventually will have to be taken up by another conference. There is no other way of saving Europe as a whole.

FOUR PROBLEMS ON SLATE

At Genoa or at a subsequent conference the following problems will have to be faced, for until they are solved, chaos in Europe will continue.

ONE—Revision of the indemnity demands on Germany so that the German people will have an incentive to reform their currency and resume their normal economic life.

TWO—Stimulation of Russian trade so that Europe can increase its manufactures to Russia in return.

THREE—Stabilization of exchange so that future prices can be reasonably estimated, by making an aid to government borrowings and increasing taxation to meet government expenses.

FOUR—Reduction of land armaments, so that the nations can get their minds away from thoughts of war and can concentrate on peaceful development.

(The relation of the Genoa conference to the United States will be discussed in Mason's second article in The Lima News tomorrow.)

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

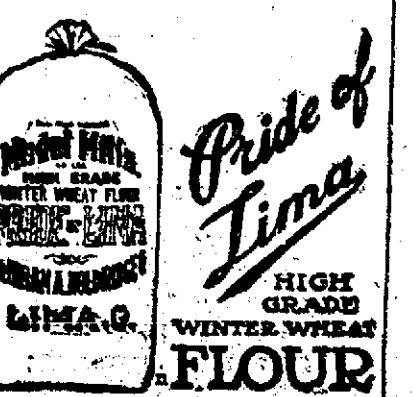

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

TOPAVE GRAND-AV

Delayed by Sewer, Work to be Taken up Soon

Paving of Grand-av, authorized by city council in 1919, but delayed because of sewer work, will probably be undertaken this year, according to City Engineer Vaughn Miller. Miller is preparing a comprehensive report to the city manager on the paving program for the year.

Sewer and water lines were laid in a number of streets during the latter part of 1920 and these thoroughfares can be paved this summer, if a start is made.

Paving Grand-av may be deferred, according to Manager Bingham, until such time as the Ohio Electric can be induced to lay new trolley tracks through the portion occupied by its tracks.

Work in the street was postponed in 1920 because it was anticipated the thoroughfare would be torn up. John Farley, contractor on the work, however, tunnelled underneath and the surface was not broken, save to sink shafts.

Tear out this baking powder biscuit recipe.

BISCUITS
2 cups Gold Medal Flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; mix in shortening, and liquid (milk or water) and pat on a floured board to about 1 inch in thickness. Cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Gold Medal Flour has always been her choice

WHEN Liza's deft fingers fashion that wonderful mixture soon to be transformed into golden brown biscuits, she knows each dainty morsel will be relished because she followed the Gold Medal recipe.

Years ago, Liza discovered the secret of successful baking was Gold Medal Flour, the flour of purity, whiteness and strength. It has always been her choice.

How often have you said to yourself, "I wonder what kind of luck I'll have with my biscuits today?"

Old, experienced cooks no longer depend on luck for the quality of their bakings.

The Gold Medal recipe is your guide to better biscuits. In using this recipe remember that a soft dough patted out will give you a fluffier biscuit than stiffer dough rolled out.

And you will find it more economical to use one and the same flour for biscuits, bread, cake and pastry. Why not begin today by ordering a sack of Gold Medal Flour?

ELECTION DATE IS NOT DECIDED

Bond Issue Vote Awaits Disposal Plant Site Assurance

Date has not been determined for holding a special election of the people of Lima for the purpose of accepting or rejecting a million dollar bond issue, to finance construction of a disposal plant and intercepting sewer, Solicitor Landis said Friday.

The matter was turned over to the school by the city commission when it was ordered that legislation be prepared for floating a bond issue and fixing a date for holding special election.

Landis stated Friday he will take up the matter as speedily as possible. Arrangement for purchasing a site for the disposal plant southwest of the city are still pending between the city and real estate owners.

Management of the Solar refinery has signified willingness to sell a portion of a tract of land in Shewee-tp, according to Manager C. A. Bingham. Other owners have not replied to inquiries made by the city manager.

Solicitor Landis is uncertain whether the city will be forced to resort to condemnation proceedings to secure a right of way along the river front or can acquire land by peaceful purchase.

Construction of the East Side relief sewer which will pass thru Lincoln park, has not been assured by Manager C. A. Bingham, it was learned Friday.

East Side real estate owners and taxpayers have asked that the sewer be put in this season. During 1921 the state board of health ordered the city to construct the sewer. Council adopted legislation, but no arrangements have ever been made for financing the project.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF CHANCELLOR COMMANDER

Lima lodge Knights of Pythias has arranged a stag social, to be held Friday evening in their hall. An old-time minstrel will be present and will present such tunes as "Turkey in the Straw," "The Arkansas Traveler" and "Choos Yo Honey."

The page rank will be conferred on a class of candidates Wednesday night and the lodge is arranging for its bi-weekly dance, February 10, when Valentine decorations and favors will prevail. Decorations in keeping with the observance of the birthday of George Washington will mark the bi-weekly dance February 24.

The Knight rank will be conferred on a class of candidates February 22, when a fitting celebration of Washington's birthday will be held. The equine rank will be conferred on February 15 and another stag social is set for February 17.

The lodge will close the month of February with a frolic of the Oriental Princesses. February 23, Schindewolf and Bowersock will be present to help celebrate the birthday of L. H. Rogers, chancellor commander of the order. Bean soup and tabasco punch will be served.

MEET IN ATTEMPT TO AVOID BIG WALKOUT

CLEVELAND—Wage reductions, removal of restrictive rules in industry and an early settlement to avoid a strike in the busy season—were to be the principal issues for discussion at a meeting of representatives of twenty-five thousand union building trade workers, members of the Building Trades Council and the wage commission of the Building Trades Employers Association, scheduled for this afternoon.

These issues will be presented by the employers, who embodied them in a resolution.

The present employers' agreement expires March 1, according to the employers.

BUSINESS REVIVAL SEEN IN PROPERTY SALE GROWTH

That business conditions in Lima are generally growing better, is the belief of Miner A. Atmure, who draws invidious of deeds for persons exchanging property.

In December, I had little of this work to do and few calls or even suggestions for exchanges or purchases of property," Atmure said. But in January there was numerous deeds for changes of ownership.

I believe the good work will go on in February. This is the surest sign of business upgrade, I have heard," Atmure asserted.

LIMA WOMAN ATTRIBUTES RESTORATION OF SIGHT TO FAITH AND PRAYER

Bilias in her left eye for 10 years, Mrs. Muriel Furry, formerly of Lima, now of Toledo, was suddenly restored to full vision while attending a meeting at the Pentecostal mission, 312 Main-st in that city, she told reporters.

"I told of my blindness and asked the worshippers to pray that I might be cured of the affliction," Mrs. Furry said. "They told me I would recover my sight if I would pray and believe that my prayer would be answered."

"I prayed and suddenly I could see out of the blind eye almost as well as out of the good eye. One of the women touched me on my blind eye but that was all anyone did for me at the mission meeting except to pray, and I am convinced that it was prayer and faith that cured me."

"I came to Toledo from my home in Lima five years ago and at that time I couldn't see the signs on the street cars," she said.

Mrs. Furry is a widow. She resides in the Lichtle apartments, 740 Huron-st, Toledo, and has a son, Glenn Baker, employed in the Terminal building, Toledo.

A SPECIAL FOOD FOR OLD PEOPLE

A Great Discovery Made at a Well Known Medical College to Ward Off Feebleness in Old Age

There has been a good deal of discussion lately in regard to old people—some at 50 call themselves old and really appear so, while others at 70 years seem active, vigorous and young.

We see it illustrated every day, all around us. It is not years, but loss of vital force, probably caused by mal-nutrition that makes a person seem old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and poor circulation soon start vitality on the wane.

Therefore, we feel free to say, every man and woman who feels old, whether they are so in years or not, will be interested to know that for some time the medical profession have been recommending dietetic treatment for such weak, feeble, nervous conditions.

Now Nutritional science has come to the rescue, and for the first time since we have conducted a drug store we are able to furnish you a remedy that has been tested and approved by a Professor of Physiological Chemistry at one of America's greatest Medical Colleges, known as SUSTO Nutritive Tonic Tablets. They have really proved a wonderful discovery to ward off the feeble conditions of old age and keep one active and well. They supply in concentrated form the strength and life-giving elements of yeast, rice, eggs, milk, with beef protein and iron which are lacking in our daily food. They are easily digested and give one a hearty appetite, promote sound sleep, and impart strength and vitality to every organ of the body. We guarantee SUSTO Thompson's 3 Drug Stores.—Adv.

U. S. CONFEDERATE MONEY IN USE

$10 Bills Put On The Market in Germany.

MERCHANTS ARE VICTIMIZED

Thousands of Dollars Lost by Prominent Men

BERLIN — (Associated Press)—Another issue of United States Confederate money, in $10 bills, has been put on the market in Germany, and several prominent merchants have been victimized to the extent of thousands of dollars. Scores of others have accepted the bad bills in smaller amounts.

A few months ago the Confederate money, suspiciously bright and clean, was passed quietly around to unsuspecting shopkeepers making change. At that time a warning was issued by the banks and the newspapers advised readers to use discretion.

The latest known victim is a merchant who sold a bill of goods for $900 in cash and accepted the Confederate currency. He appealed to the American Association of Commerce and Trade in Berlin.

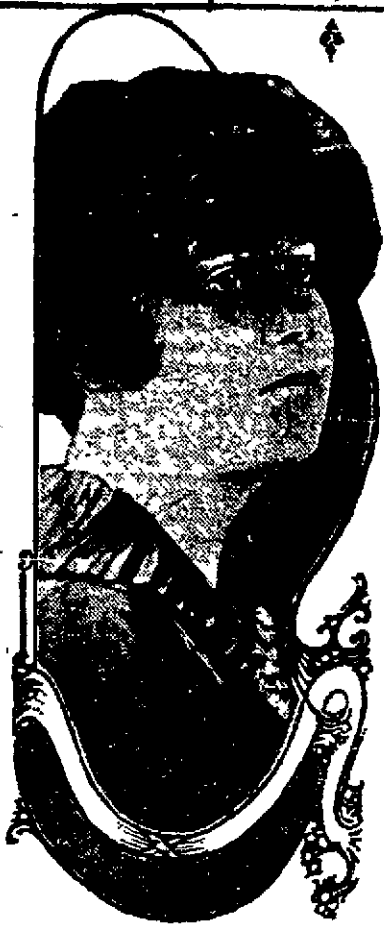

The association, as a result of these raids on German marks and German goods by the Confederate money vendors, has issued a warning to its clientele, declaring "the only way to avoid such losses is to effect all payments for goods thru a bank, especially where foreign currency comes into question."

German merchants recently also have been accepting counterfeit German 50-mark notes, many of which are still in circulation altho the police succeeded in capturing the counterfeiters.

MISS NELLIE COLLINS.

"I have been thankful a thousand times that I took Tanlac when I did. It is simply wonderful the way it has benefited me," said Miss Nellie Collins, 1330 Connecticut Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

"About eighteen months ago my appetite began to fail and I seemed to be going into a decline. Nothing agreed with me and my nerves were kept up to such a high pitch I was actually afraid they would snap in two."

"But Tanlac has brought about a wonderful change in my condition. My appetite is almost ravenous, my digestion is perfect and I feel as well and strong as I ever did in my life. I never dreamed there was as grand a medicine as Tanlac in the world."

NOTE—The International Proprietaries Co., distributors of Tanlac, have on file in their offices at Atlantic, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province in Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and section and have been previously published in this paper.

DEAR VAUGHN: Atta boy! Keep the home lights burning. There's nothing so disgusting as lights being out. I'm with you in your effort to keep them going.

To Judge E. J. Jackson

DEAR EMMETT: I am informed that you would consider being chief of police of my fair city. I don't know what kind of a chief you'd make, but if you made as good a record in catching crooks as you have in handling them after they were caught, no one could kick.

LIMA BEANE.

To J. Kennard Johnson

DEAR KEN: I understand there isn't quite so much defiance among the representative citizens of Defiance on the question of opposing abandonment of the I. C. & E. since you and your committee visited the folks in the county to the north. I am glad they are on the track again.

LIMA BEANE.

To Owners of Horses

FRIENDS: We have had little severe cold weather so far this winter. During the recent cold days I saw a number of horses standing along the streets without blankets. Auto owners do better than that by their machines. Please don't forget in the future that Old Dobbin gets cold, too.

LIMA BEANE.

To Central High School Girls

DEAR GIRLS: This does not apply to all of you, please understand that at the beginning. I cannot resist writing a letter to you, however, since I have seen a number of you recently on your way to school in the morning without a stitch on your head. Many of you carried your hats. 'Twas cold and it made me shiver to see this. Do your mothers know about this?

LIMA BEANE.

To H. P. Dean

MY DEAR HOWARD: Your assurance, in an address before a convention of hardware dealers in my city, that the peak of depression has been reached and that business is now on the upgrade, is indeed encouraging.

I believe you are sufficiently well acquainted with the situation that you are able to speak authoritatively. At least, I trust your optimism is not misplaced.

LIMA BEANE.

To Good Roads Advocates

DEAR FRIENDS: Announcement of assembly of your good roads booster organization in my city on February 13 impels me to express the hope that you will be able to assist in putting thru to a successful conclusion a comprehensive program in Allen-co the coming season.

Considering that more and more traffic is being diverted from the rails to the highways, it behooves you to favor durable construction.

find King Zeno commandant of the city and ruling with frigid hand. So belowstairs to a breakfast of porridge and eggs, a la Swift

In the lobby, met with Charles Hunter, the pillowpath, down for a consultation with Dr. Rexall and his state-wide internes. And in discourse learned he with his charming daughter, Lady Dorothy, to the theatre had been the preceding night. And they saw there in the memorial house to Peruna, dear Fay Bainter and her Japanese impersonation of that leading role in "East in West." And Charles much impressed with the play, and albeit one of the best I myself have ever seen, so it was two years since I saw it. And Dr. Charles introduced me to another of Dr. Rexall's staff, from Cleveland. And he, in discourse, asked about Wilbur Smith, of the Garford, whom it seems he knew when in nickers.

Abroad and waived gaily to Warden Thomas, the chilled when he stopped; but only inquired if West Cairo had been paved. The talk nowadays continues about Davis running again—the Democrats hoping he will, and the Repubs trying to persuade him his health is so bad he should forsooth seek rest—any kind, anywhere, in the South Seas, if possible. And talk, too, that Burton will oppose Fess for Senator, and if not, then Nick Longworth will be drafted. Albert, Westerville is sweet for Fess; and St. Wheeler wants both the togas, now being possessed of that worn by Ada Wilks.

So back to the hotel and a run for the station. To lunch on the dinor as we reached the Conservancy section. And at table the discourse was about motors, the Pierce-Sparrows and the Adlacs proclaimed the best in the world, but many believing prices would go lower.

So into Cincy, and by Edsell coach to the Sinton, jammed and crowded with lumber men, gathered to resolve that prices are on the bottom and now time to build.

Yet the glaucous room-clerk discovered a vacant apartment and there assigned me in full view of the Beautiful Ohio and the old Burnet House, rendezvous of college days. And so to bed.

To City Commissioners

FRIENDS: Decision by your body to call an election for the purpose of affording the people of my city the opportunity to vote on bonds for a sewage disposal plant, I understand is probable.

It has been my policy never to become unduly enthusiastic about bond issues, but I must confess that I favor a plan of this sort, if there is no other method of securing the money necessary to provide an improvement so badly needed as a disposal plant and intercepting sewers.

The health of my city demands it.

GENTLEMEN: I happened to be near when Car No. 662 of your Grand-av line was derailed at Elizabeth-st and Grand-av this week. I heard one of your men in charge of car crews giving the crew of that car a "bawling out."

Interested in the matter, I investigated. I found a flange on a wheel of the old car worn to the extent that the car could not be expected to stay on the rails. A layman could see that.

I have no objection to men being reprimanded when they are at fault. I do believe, however, that the reprimand in this case should be to the higher-ups and not the crew. If you had kept the car in good condition it probably would not have been derailed.

There has been too much tariff changing in the past and I agree with you that the matter should be settled quickly and permanently.

FRIENDS: Decision by your body to call an election for the purpose of affording the people of my city the opportunity to vote on bonds for a sewage disposal plant, I understand is probable.

It has been my policy never to become unduly enthusiastic about bond issues, but I must confess that I favor a plan of this sort, if there is no other method of securing the money necessary to provide an improvement so badly needed as a disposal plant and intercepting sewers.

The health of my city demands it.

To Street Car Officials

GENTLEMEN: I happened to be near when Car No. 662 of your Grand-av line was derailed at Elizabeth-st and Grand-av this week. I heard one of your men in charge of car crews giving the crew of that car a "bawling out."

Interested in the matter, I investigated. I found a flange on a wheel of the old car worn to the extent that the car could not be expected to stay on the rails. A layman could see that.

I have no objection to men being reprimanded when they are at fault. I do believe, however, that the reprimand in this case should be to the higher-ups and not the crew. If you had kept the car in good condition it probably would not have been derailed.

It is my opinion that the Russian footwear would be a great improvement over the style you are now using.

I feel that your position is right and share the opinion that there should be no delay in tariff tinkering—if such tinkering is necessary at all.

There has been too much tariff changing in the past and I agree with you that the matter should be settled quickly and permanently.

NEW CALENDAR IS NOW PROPOSED

Provides 13 Months Instead of 12 As At Present

ALL CONSIST OF FOUR WEEKS

Each Would Begin on Sunday, Ending Saturday

VANCOUVER—(Special).—What day of the month is today? Answer quickly now without looking at the calendar.

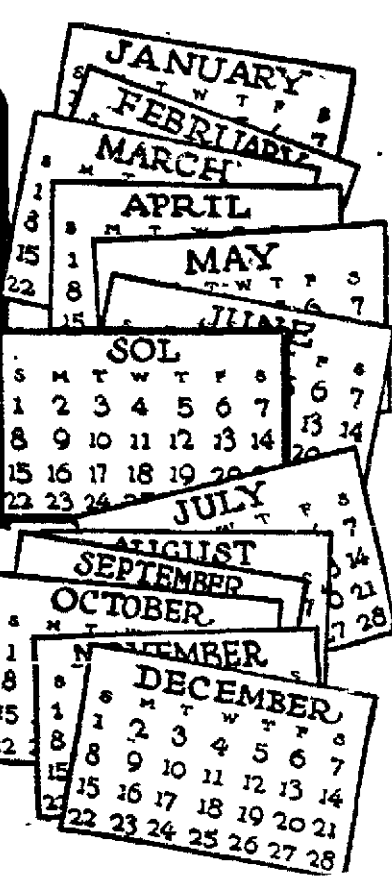

Seven chances out of ten you can't do it! On what day of the week did the 17th of last month fall? Nine chances in ten you can't answer that.

Two or two little tests prove that you—and all the rest of us, too—are slaves to the calendar. Up here there's a scientist who's spent 27 years of his life trying to free us from calendar slavery. And now he thinks that victory is just a few years—or possibly a few months—away.

This scientist is Moses B. Cotsworth. He's one of the world's best known statisticians.

CALENDAR REFORM. He's devised a new calendar known as the year calendar. It provides for 13 months, each month with 28 days to supplant

THIRTEEN-MONTH CALENDAR

Moses B. Cotsworth and his 13-Month Calendar. Note the extra month, "Sol," between June and July.

present cumbersome system of 12 months with 30 or 31 days. The thirteen-month system is known as "Sol" and is inserted between June and July. All other months have the same name as in our present calendar.

But 13 months of 28 days make only 364 days and the year has 365. So Cotsworth would make New Year Day a special day, without any name or date, inserted between the end of one year and beginning of the next.

This would be a holiday the world over and would be the necessary extra day to bring the number of days to 365.

ITS ADVANTAGES

And every leap year Cotsworth would insert another extra day—Leap Year Day—without any name or date. That would be a holiday, too.

Cotsworth says his calendar would have these advantages:

ONE—You'd always know what day a date falls on in any month or in any year. Thus, the first always falls on Sunday, the second on Monday, and so on. You wouldn't even need a calendar!

TWO—Movable church feasts, as Easter, would always fall on the same date.

But the calendar has disadvantages for the superstitious. It has 13 months—an alleged unlucky number—and every 13th of the month falls on Friday.

Cotsworth says astronomers long have been in favor of his revised calendar but that opposition has come from the churches.

Early next month Cotsworth will boost his revised calendar before a conference of scientists at Washington. Then he'll go to Rome to discuss it before a conference of astronomers and church authorities.

After preaching calendar reform throughout Europe, Cotsworth expects to go across Russia and Siberia to the Orient, and complete an around-the-world tour by coming across the Pacific to his home in Vancouver.

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up.

The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!

Why Are Some Women Popular, happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life. —Adv.

Loss to U. S. For Past Five Years Reported

PRICE OF 334,000 HOUSES

67 Per Cent of Blazes Declared Preventable

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Three hundred and thirty-four thousand dwellings at $5,000 each, sufficient to house 1,700,000 persons could be built with the money lost in fires in the United States from 1915 to 1920, according to figures given out today by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The board places the national fire loss during the five year period at $1,672,722,677, based on an examination of over 3,000,000 reports of fires.

Matches and smoking hazards are held responsible for $90,000,000 of losses, according to the report. Next comes electricity, which caused fires costing $86,000,000. Stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipes caused a loss of $62,000,000; defective chimneys and flues, $61,000,000 and "exposure," which means communicated fires, $233,000,000.

As a basis of comparison, the underwriters figure that the five-year fire losses of the nation would build $5,000 homes for the entire popu-

"The big advantage of the Rub-N-Go special offer that was advertised last week at the grocers—just the new White Naphtha Soap and from now on I'm going to use it all the time. LETTERS TO LOVERS

—BY WINONA WILCOX—

Business friendships between men and women, with all of their opportunities and freedom, seldom carry over into social life. Thus the balance is maintained in the matrimonial race between the home and the employed girl. One of the latter thus complains:

"I am getting tired of going to places of amusement with business girls. Since I have been working in an office I find that I must attend plays and concerts with one or more bachelor girls if I go at all. I am not yet 25 years old. Most certainly I want the normal life of a wife and mother. Men like me and I meet scores of them daily, nevertheless, it seems to me that the girl who stays at home has all the best chances to marry."

Now it doesn't seem that way at all to an impartial observer. So many men marry the girls they get acquainted with and meet only in the business way that to the home girl it appears that her employed sister has the better chance to select a husband to her taste.

The girl who works often meets scores of men daily, like the writer above. What she makes of her opportunity depends upon her own sense, or the lack of it.

The above complaint evidently suspects that the social and business worlds do not mix much better than water and oil. If so, who is to blame?

Perhaps there's a hint of an answer in this from a wife:

"I am a young wife who suffers bitterly because my husband attends his office social affairs without me. There are gay dinners and dances several times a year, but he says it is made plain that the wives and sweethearts of the men employed are not expected to be among those present. I am jealous and I can't help it and if he loves me I do not understand how he can want to stay away from me for these affairs."

Plainly the heartache about the separation of home from office friendships is not confined to business life.

Now it is written in all ancient and modern codes of etiquette that the women of the two worlds do not adapt themselves to each other and those who know both worlds know that both sets of women are equally responsible.

In the competition for husbands, the outstanding fact is that the influence some girls have over their office companions ends at the office door, as the first letter makes clear. Plainly, business nor home life gives any woman an advantage in the competition for a husband. The balance remains.

Individual preference, not marriage, determines most marriages.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

Is there such a "disease" as love at first sight? If there is, I have it. About a year ago I met a certain girl and fell in love with her. Some say, "at eight o'clock I am 23 years old and she is two years my junior. I know am foolish to ever think of falling in love at this age, but I couldn't help it. I think you would yourself if you were to meet her. She is just a sweet, decent, respectable, hard-working girl. I have only been with her twice. Later I cannot seem to be able to get an engagement with her. To tell the truth, I don't blame her. I haven't a machine to meet her with when she quits work at night. Like a lot of her admirers, I have simply adored this girl. I know you will say I am foolish, but I am just where Cupid has put me in the palm of his hand. I have been with her few girls and I am from a beautiful climate, and they are treated with the utmost respect. All I ask is your most sincere advice and I shall go by it, no matter how hard it will be for me.

ONE IN LOVE

YOU have something that is one sure thing. Really, I do sympathize greatly with one who has succumbed so hopelessly to Cupid's machinations. Some say that such a thing as love at first sight does exist. Others are prone to disregard this belief. Whether or not you were a victim of the so-called "love at first sight," your letter indicates that your regard for this young girl is sincere and deep.

Paradoxical as it may seem, but I do think that as an ardent admirer you are lacking. Only two engagements in a year with the girl you "adore" doesn't sound exactly encouraging. It is ridiculous to even think that this girl will not permit you to call upon her, simply because you do not possess a machine. If she really cares anything at all for your friendship she will not give that fact a thought. Be friendly and polite with her and extend to her the little courtesies which seem trivial and yet which mean so much to the average girl. If you are a gentleman and try in every way to please her, I am very certain that she will show you more consideration and permit you to call upon her more frequently. You must take into consideration, however, that this girl is very young. You cannot expect to monopolize her time nor have her give up her other boy friends for you. If you really care for her you will be willing to wait until she has attained a suitable age before asking her to become engaged to you.

Dear Miss Smart:

Really give me suggestions as to what would make a good lunch for a Valentine party? The affair is to be at the home of a friend, something different than usual. How can the Valentine suggestion be brought out in the luncheon? Would you suggest a buffet lunch or a plate lunch? (2) What would be fifty favors? Are they given to young people?

DAILY READER

(1) Heart shaped sandwiches of white bread filled with minced ham or chicken and secured with red baby ribbon, or heart shaped sandwiches of nut bread with date and peanut butter filling; olives, potato chips, cake, or cookies iced with pink frosting, candies or nuts.

(2) Either way is very nice. If you are having a large number of guests, the buffet luncheon is perhaps a bit more convenient. (3) Some of my suggestions for favors, suitable for the occasion, at a book store. It is proper to present the men guests with favors.

Big Double Attraction at the Lyric Sunday

Anita Stewart in "Playthings of Destiny" Along With Larry Semon

In His Great Comedy—"The Saw Mill"

Can't find very many people lately who will say that the Lyric theater is not giving full value for money received. One big double attraction follows right upon the heels of another and on next Sunday there comes the best of them all. You perhaps don't say yet realize it, but Larry Semon is rapidly coming to the front as one of the greatest comedians of the screen. Especially is he gaining favor in the East where already he vies with Harold Lloyd for honors.

Now on Sunday Lyric patrons will be treated to a real feast of entertainment with Anita Stewart in "Playthings of Destiny" there will be Larry Semon in his best comedy

NEW YORK — The first spring offerings of the milliners tend to repeat some of the winter successes. There is a decided tendency toward the very smart, small hat which hints of the tricorne and is done entirely in black.

Black is strong. Black always predominates in spring, giving way as the season progresses to flower tones.

Some designers, however, are already devoting their bent for line and color to hats of extraordinary size, great soft floppy affairs in lovely colors.

Mauve, which has been a winter favorite, is being used much for sports hats. Periwinkle, the new color which is just a shade off violet, is also strong in sports wear.

A very clever model, and vastly above the shiny, crisply grained beo feathers relieve what might be a too severe line about the face and give to the chapeau a rather "dress up" air. The hat itself is of imported haircloth.

Hats of this type are seen with tailcoats which go neatly about their morning shopping and are equally good with the gown one calls or lunches in in the afternoon.

GRAPE JUICE DISHES

Sister Mary Suggests Some That are Real Tasty

Every housekeeper knows the difficulty of providing the necessary minerals during the winter months. Heavier foods are demanded to produce heat in the body, making the need of salts and acids very great.

One answer to this problem is found in the simple and delicious grape juice. The woman who canned or bottled quantities of grape juice will find it a boon in her cooking.

GRAPE JUICE PUDDING

Two cups grape juice, 1-3 cup cornstarch, 1. dessertspoon butter, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 eggs (whites), few grains salt, 2 teaspoons cold water. If the grape juice is sweetened use less sugar. Dilute cornstarch with enough cold water to pour easily. Put juice and sugar over fire and when boiling stir in cornstarch. Add butter and cook, stirring constantly until thick and transparent.

Remove from fire. Separate whites from yolks of eggs. Save yolks for sauce. Beat whites till stiff and dry with cold water and a few grains of salt. Fold into grape juice mixture. Turn into individual molds to set and chill. Serve with custard sauce.

TAPIOCA GRAPE JUICE

One and one-half cups grape juice, 1-2 cups water, 1-1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, 1-2 cup minute tapioca, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Put grape juice, water, salt and sugar in a sauce pan and put over the fire. When boiling stir in tapioca. Cook, stirring to prevent sticking until transparent. Add lemon juice and turn into mold to chill. Serve with or without whipped cream.

HAM BAKED IN GRAPE JUICE

One slice ham cut 3 inches thick, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, grape juice.

Put boiling water over meat and let boil half an hour. Drain. Put in roaster or baking dish, sprinkle with spices and pour over grape

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By ZOE BECKLEY.
CAPITULATION

"All right," said Paul, with a shrug. "You win."

He turned away wearily, crossed the room and sat down at the desk to write.

Polly remained staring out of the window moodily trying to justify her refusal to "do the snappy social stuff" that would, her husband believed, get him the order from Rigaud's big firm. Polly hated the idea. It seemed cheap to her. Yet she knew it was done every day.

Wasn't it an old story that big business deals were constantly put over "by the boulevard route" by social angling, dinners, teas? Didn't the diplomats' wives and cabinet women in Washington have quite as much to do with getting appointments and preferment as the men themselves did?

In her heart of hearts Polly knew it was not only the idea of entering the Frenchman and exercising a few innocent blandishments she objected to. It was that the idea was Violet Rand's.

She began to be honest with herself — to admit she was jealous. She realized now that she had disliked Violet from the moment that dashing young woman had edged into the heavenly orbit of the honeymoon.

Much as she disliked Violet, Polly suspected that in this particular instance she was acting in good faith. The realization burned and rankled.

"It — it isn't that I'm perverse, Paul," she began haltingly, still unable fully to admit the truth, "it's simply that an American girl feels too proud to play a game of —"

His face grew stern.

"Now look here, Polly, cut it off my right hand sooner than ask me to do anything to hurt your pride — or mine. I merely asked you to do a little tactful social stunt, if you're not a good enough sport to do it, let's drop the whole thing and say no more about it. I can make out without Rigaud's order."

He turned back to his writing.

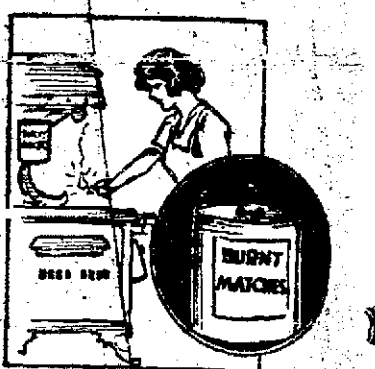

The words "not a good sport" sank deep. Polly winced, then flared. A quick retort was on her lips. With an effort of will she choked it back. He was right. Suddenly she remembered an old saying of her mother's, so oft repeated that it had lost its meaning. Now it sounded in her ears. "It's the first quarrel that matters. Fend it off — before it becomes a habit."

Polly went over and gently laid her cheek against Paul's hair. With the action came an amazing sense of peace. It was as the something cold and hard within her suddenly broke and melted into waves of happiness.

"I'm sorry, dear. I'm wrong."

The simple words wrought magic.

GUNS PASS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAVE SANDERS, range rider on the D. BAY HART, rescue their employer, EMERSON CRAWFORD, from the hands of a rival ranchman. This deed enshrines Sanders in the heart of the community. The ranch owner's daughter, Dave's sister, in Denver, where he has traced.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Dave whistled. The pony pricked up its ears, looked round, and came straight to him. The young man laid his face against the soft silky nose, fondled it, whispered endearments to his pet. He put the bronco thru its tricks for the benefit of the corral attendant.

"Well, I'll be doggoned," that youth commented. "The little pinto sure is a wonder. Acts like he knows you mighty well."

"Ought to," I trained him. Had him before Miller got him."

"Bet you hated to sell him."

"You know it," Dave moved forward to his end, the intention to get possession of the horse. He spoke in a voice easy and casual.

"Saw Miller a while ago. They're talkin' about sellin' the paint haws, him and his partner, Doble. I'm to saddle up and show what Chiquito can do."

Dave cinched, swung to the saddle, and rode to the gate of the corral. Two men were coming in, and by the sound of their voices were quarreling. They stepped aside to let him pass, one on each side of the gate, so that it was necessary to ride between them.

They recognized the pinto at the same moment Dave did them. On the heels of that recognition came another.

Doble ripped out an oath and a shout of warning. "It's Sanders!"

A gun flashed as the pony jumped of a gallop. The silent night grew noisy with shots, voices, the clatter of hoofs. Twice Dave fired answers to the challenges which leaped out of the darkness at him. He raced across the bridge spanning the Platte and for a moment drew upon the other side to listen for sounds which might tell him whether he would be pursued. One last shot, his revolver shot disturbed the stillness.

His flight had no definite objective except to put as much distance between himself and Denver as possible.

Dave broke over valleys of swirling mist far below the rider. The sun rose and dried the moisture. Dave looked down on a town scattered up and down a gulch.

He left Chiquito at a livery barn, after having personally fed and watered the pinto, and went himself to a hotel.

Three or four men were standing on the steps of the hotel talking with the proprietor.

"That's him," the hotel-keeper said in an excited whisper.

A brown-faced man without a coat turned quickly and looked at Sanders. He wore a belt with cartridges and a revolver.

"What's your name?" he demanded.

"Sanders—Dave Sanders."

"I want you."

"So? Who are you?"

"Sheriff of the county."

"What's your name?"

"Murder."

Dave gasped. His heart beat fast with a prescience of impending disaster. "Murder," he repeated dully.

"You're charged with the murder" of George Doble last night in Denver.

The boy stared at him with horror-stricken eyes. "Doble? My God, did I kill him?" He clutched at a porch post to steady himself. The hills were sliding quickly up into the sky.

CHAPTER XIII

All the way back to Denver, while the train ran down thru the narrow, crooked canon, Dave's mind dwelt in a penumbra of horror. It was impossible he could have killed Doble, he kept telling himself. He had fired back into the night without aim. He had not even tried to hit the men who were shooting at him. It must be some ghastly joke.

It remained with him, in the background of his mind, up to and thru his trial. What shook his nerve was the fact that he had taken a life, not the certainty of the punishment that must follow.

It did not take the lawyer whom West engaged long to decide on the line the defense must take. "We'll show that Miller and Doble were crooks and that they had wronged proved Crawford. "But don't you get downhearted, Dave. We're allowin' to stand by you to a finish. It ain't as if you'd got a good man. Doble was a mean-hearted scoundrel. If ever I met up with one. He's no loss to society. We're goin' to show the jury, that, too."

They did. By the time Crawford, Hart, and a pair of victims who had been trapped by the sharpshooters had testified about Miller and Doble, these worthies had no shred of reputation left with the jury. It was shown that they had robbed the defendant of the horse he had trained and that he had gone to a lawyer and found no legal redress within his means.

But Dave was unable to prove self-defense. Miller stuck doggedly to his story. The cowpuncher had fired the first shot. He had continued to fire tho' he must have seen Doble sink to the ground immediately. Moreover, the testimony of the doctor showed that the fatal shot had taken effect at close range.

The jury found him guilty of murder in the second degree. The judge sentenced him to ten years in the penitentiary.

When Bob Hart came to say goodbye before Dave was removed to Canon City, the young range-rider almost broke down.

"We're gonna stay with this, Dave. You know Crawford. He goes thru when he starts. Soon as there's a chance we'll hit the governor for a pardon. It's a damn shame, old pal. That's what it is."

Dave nodded. A lump in his throat interfered with speech.

"The ol' man lent me money to buy Chiquito, and I'm gonna keep the pinto till you get out," continued Bob. "One thing more. Miller on the way back to Malapi. If he don't get a term for hawss-stealin', I'm a liar."

CHAPTER XIV

The warden handed him a ticket back to Denver, and with it a stereotyped little lecture of platitudes.

Sanders walked slowly out of the office and thru the door in the wall that led back to life. He was free. Tomorrow was his. All the years of his life were waiting for him. But the fact stirred in him no emotion. As he stood in the dry Colorado sunshine his heart was quite dead.

From one job to another Dave drifted. His stubborn pride, due in part to a native honesty that would not let him live under false pretenses, in part to a bitterness that had become dogged defiance, kept him out of good places and forced him to do heavy, unskilled labor that brought the poorest pay.

Yet he saved money, bought himself good, cheap clothes, and found energy to attend night school where

His stubborn pride, due in part to a native honesty that would not let him live under false pretenses, in part to a bitterness that had become dogged defiance, kept him out of good places and forced him to do heavy, unskilled labor that brought the poorest pay.

Yet he saved money, bought himself good, cheap clothes, and found energy to attend night school where proved Crawford. "But don't you get downhearted, Dave. We're allowin' to stand by you to a finish. It ain't as if you'd got a good man. Doble was a mean-hearted scoundrel. If ever I met up with one. He's no loss to society. We're goin' to show the jury, that, too."

They did. By the time Crawford, Hart, and a pair of victims who had been trapped by the sharpshooters had testified about Miller and Doble, these worthies had no shred of reputation left with the jury. It was shown that they had robbed the defendant of the horse he had trained and that he had gone to a lawyer and found no legal redress within his means.

But Dave was unable to prove self-defense. Miller stuck doggedly to his story. The cowpuncher had fired the first shot. He had continued to fire tho' he must have seen Doble sink to the ground immediately. Moreover, the testimony of the doctor showed that the fatal shot had taken effect at close range.

The jury found him guilty of murder in the second degree. The judge sentenced him to ten years in the penitentiary.

When Bob Hart came to say goodbye before Dave was removed to Canon City, the young range-rider almost broke down.

"We're gonna stay with this, Dave. You know Crawford. He goes thru when he starts. Soon as there's a chance we'll hit the governor for a pardon. It's a damn shame, old pal. That's what it is."

Dave nodded. A lump in his throat interfered with speech.

"The ol' man lent me money to buy Chiquito, and I'm gonna keep the pinto till you get out," continued Bob. "One thing more. Miller on the way back to Malapi. If he don't get a term for hawss-stealin', I'm a liar."

SOUTH AND CENTRAL CAGE TEAMS TO BATTLE

ANNUAL GAME SET FOR TONIGHT

BOSTON is figuring on using Joe Dugan, acquired from the Athletics, as short stop.

Manager Duffy of the Red Sox figures he has a mighty good infield with Foster at third, Dugan at short, Pratt at second and George Burns at first.

On paper it is a mighty good looking infield. Shortstop, however, is the questionable position.

Joe Dugan is a great third baseman. He has a brighter future than any other recruit infielder in the American League.

Dugan likes to play third base. That fact, coupled with his remarkable ability, has made him the most talked about youngster in the American League.

Joe Dugan doesn't like to play shortstop. Connie Mack has needed a shortstop ever since the departure of Jack Barry. Mack tried his very best to develop Dugan into a shortstop.

At times the youngster gave flashes of his remarkable ability as an infielder. However, Joe never liked the position. He has often remarked to me when I was umpiring on the bases: "I am a third baseman, not a shortstop. A fellow has too many things to do at this position to suit me."

Joe is rather temperamental. If he doesn't like a thing well, he doesn't like it. Joe is a willing young man. If Hughes Duffy decides to use him at short, he will give him his very best. However, it will be spilling great third baseman for an ordinary shortstop.

If Joe should acceptably fill the bill at short, Duffy will have a mighty good infield. It is an infield that combines a pretty good defense with much offensive power.

However, Duffy is protected, should he decide that Joe Dugan should be played at third rather than short. He has Frank O'Dowd, secured from Washington, to fall back on.

O'Dowd is a mighty intelligent ball player. If nature had only endowed him with a stronger throwing arm, he would easily win a berth as a big league regular. A rather weak arm has held him back.

The quickness with which he gets the ball away helps his weak arm considerably. Only on double plays requiring a speedy throw he is greatly handicapped. He is a mighty good ball player to have around, and Duffy is sure to find him very useful.

Unique Event Is Scheduled

Leading Barnyard Golfers Are Entered in Annual Horse-Shoe Tourney

S. PETERSBURG, Fla.—"Barnyard golfers," from all parts of America are trekking to the "Sunshine City," where the fourth annual horsehoe pitching tournament for the United States championship will be held week of February 20, in the winter's most unusual sport event.

At this early date a number of the country's best pitchers have already arrived in St. Petersburg to carry on their training for the big meet which has attracted country-wide interest in past winters.

J. Todd Fowler of Akron, O., president of the National League of Horsehoe Pitchers, has arrived here to take charge of the tourney, while Dr. E. C. Beach, a retired minister of Delaware, O., is already on the ground to act as referee and manager of the event.

Dr. F. M. Robinson, a star performer of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., crossed the country from California where he had been enjoying the get into trim for the contests, and he was shortly followed by Harry J. Bourne, of Atlantic City, who finished fourth in the meet last February.

The games will be played in the center of a huge wooden bowl with seating accommodations for 7500 spectators. Five lanes will be laid out on the level while the galleries will be banked high into the air circling the pit.

South and Central III cage squad are set for the first blast of the referee's whistle tonight which will set in motion the annual basketball game, in the South gymnasium.

Coach Young, of South, announced Friday morning that his quintet of basketballers is all set for the fray.

Patrick, Central, voiced confidence in his combination and said that his team could not possibly be in better shape.

Over seven hundred tickets have been sold for the big game, and scores of enthusiastic fans are expected to rush the gym when the doors swing open at 6:30 o'clock.

STARTS AT 7:30

An hour later the game is scheduled to start, according to Faculty Manager Graham.

All available space to handle spectators has been arranged, but, filled to capacity, the gym cannot accommodate half the number of fans that are interested and anxious to see the fray.

No definite line-up would be announced by either coach. Both have been sending their squads thru practices, with all spectators barred. A number of baffling plays are expected to be used by each team in the big game tonight.

MASS MEETINGS

Mass meetings were held in each high school Friday and, before the game tonight, students will partake of the uptown streets. It is a gala event in scholastic circles.

Central is seeking revenge for the defeat handed them in football last Thanksgiving Day by the Southerners.

Will they get it?

Four World's Pool Records Are Discarded

CHICAGO — Four world's records were broken by members of the Illinois Athletic Club swimming team in the open meet in the club pool here last night.

Miss Edna O'Connell broke the world's mark for women in the 100 yard breast stroke, making the distance in 1:12.2-5, four fifths of a second better than the old mark, set by Miss Ruth Smith of the Columbus, Ohio, athletic club.

IN TWO EVENTS

Johnny Weismuller broke world records in the 50-yard and 250-yard swims and was on the relay team that hung up the fourth new mark of the night. In the 50 yard swim his time was :23.2-5, one fifth of a second lower than the former record held by Kenneth Huszagh, of the Chicago Athletic association, and Perry McGilivray. He beat his own world's mark in the 250 yard swim, making the distance in 2:18.2-5, one and one-fifth seconds better than his former record.

The I. A. C. relay team composed of Weismuller, Abe Seigel, Perry McGilivray and Buddy Wallen made the 160 yards in 1:16, four-fifths of a second lower than its own world's record.

The I. A. C. team won the meet, scoring 48 points against 7 points each for the Milwaukee Athletic Club and the Great Lakes Athletic Association teams.

Don Peltier To Lead Central's Gridiron Team

Don Peltier, a junior was elected captain of the Central III football squad for next year at a meeting of athletes in the school's gymnasium Thursday night.

He is a product of South HI, but transferred to the uptown school last fall when Fisher and James went to South.

IS A GOOD MAN

Last season he played a brilliant game and his ability won for him the support of all Central followers. Peltier's election was unanimous. When transferred to Central he made no objection and entered athletics at his first opportunity.

He is not only a star in football, but is also one of Central's stellar basketball players. Tonight he will play against his old school in the annual South-Central game.

GO TO SIDNEY

St. John's HI journey to Sidney to play the catholic high school basketball quintet of that city tonight. Last week St. John's beat the same team here 15 to 11.

St. Rose Plays Marion Five In Tonight's Game

Marion is sending its high school basketball team to Lima tonight for a game with St. Rose in the cathedral's auditorium at McKelben and Pierce sts.

Bob Baker, St. Rose coach, has 11 players in tip top shape and expects his well developed quintet to smash thru the Marionians and win another victory to their growing stature.

BOTH TO PLAY

Daley and Wells, leading point work together as forwards, while Capt. Cunningham will be at his regular pivot position.

Runniger will play on the guard position, while Schneising will likely be Baker's choice as the other defensive player.

Runniger plays a hard, rough game and Schneising is right there to back him up. They are responsible in a large part for the low scores registered against St. Rose this season.

STARTS AT 8

This game will start promptly at 8 bells.

One of the largest crowds of the season will likely occupy the bleachers in St. Rose auditorium tonight, as Marion's rep is widely known. Last year this team beat St. Rose.

Dundee Seeks Title Bout

Intends Issuing Formal Challenge to Champion Johnny Kilbane

JOHNNY DUNDEE is seeking new fields to conquer.

Dundee is ten holder of the junior lightweight championship.

He seeks to capture the featherweight title from Johnny Kilbane.

In his last battle with Charley White of Chicago, Dundee weighed 126 1-2 pounds.

He feels certain that it will be a much easier matter for him to make the featherweight limit than Kilbane.

A LOT OF LOGIC

Here is the way Dundee sums up his ambitions in the fight game. There is a lot of logic in his argument:

"The junior lightweight title is too new to carry any prestige. For years I have been giving away from five to ten pounds and getting no credit for it.

"The featherweight is a recognized article. It carries with it prestige and big purses. I am convinced I am the best man in the world at the featherweight limit.

"I am going to prepare a formal challenge for Kilbane. I feel that I am the logical contender. If I get the chance I will win the title. Incidentally I will give it a little exercise instead of putting it in mothballs."

The records show that Dundee and Kilbane have met twice. Shortly after Kilbane won the title in 1912, he met Dundee in a 10-round no-decision affair. There was little to choose between the two.

The following year the two met in a 20-round bout for the title. Referee Charley Epton declared it a draw. It was a tight squeeze for the champion.

On form Dundee is certainly entitled to a chance if he can make the weight.

CLUB OWNERS INSURE AGAINST POOR WEATHER ON BIG DAYS

(BY BILLY EVANS.)

Not only are insurance companies willing to gamble on life and death but they are ever willing, even anxious, to gamble on the weather.

Practically every major league club, and a good many of the minors, are insured against weather on all the big days. In speaking of the big days reference is made to Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

There are any number of blanket policies that are offered which are governed by certain conditions. The rate of insurance varies according to the risk which the company believes that it is assuming.

THE REAL VALUE

Only recently the real value of rain policy to baseball magnates was made apparent. There was launched on the Pacific Coast a winter-league of baseball in which the four managers were big league stars, Sisler, Hornsby, Cobb and Hallman.

It is understood that these four star players received $40,000 for their combined service or about $10,000 each. That placed the teams under a big expense at the very start. In order to secure every protection possible a rain insurance was carried on all games played.

When the policies were taken out little thought was given to the action. Usually the weather in October and November is very pleasant. It so happened that the league failed to strike a popular chord. That was unfortunate.

RAIN INSURANCE SAVED LEAGUE

The weather, however, instead of being very pleasant, was just the opposite. During these two months of play more rain fell than could be remembered by the oldest residents. On the face, that would appear very unfortunate. Quite to the contrary it was very fortunate.

The rain insurance was considerably in excess of the regular receipts. During the last month of the season, the promoters, instead of hoping for fine weather, which means everything in baseball, were constantly pulling for rain.

BIG SUM COLLECTED

It has been estimated that in the neighborhood of $50,000 was collected by the four clubs on rain guarantees. That sum prevented the season from being a terrible "bust" as far as the promoters were concerned.

Last year the Detroit club of the American League lost opening day, also Saturday and Sunday of opening week. Snow prevented the playing of the games. It is understood the Detroit club was paid something like $40,000 from the insurance company because of loss of those three games.

WILLING TO TAKE RISKS. A number of the policies are governed by a stated amount of rain that must fall. Other policies pay if there is merely enough rain to justify the calling off of the game.

Then there are some freak policies which pay a certain sum in case rainfall plays havoc with the attendance, yet does not prevent the playing of the game.

Often it rains from noon until a half hour or so before game time and then clears up. When a game is played on such a day, the insurance company takes the receipts of the same day for the past three or four years, strikes an average and pays the difference.

The insurance game has gotten to be a very important feature of professional baseball. It is claimed the insurance companies were on the losing end last year.

St. John Denies Professionalism

COLUMBUS — Sentiment against professionals in college football blazed here today, as a result of charges of "paid" gridiron men on Ohio State's team.

L. W. StJohn, athletic director at Ohio State issued a bitter denial any professionalism exist at the university, as intimated by Grover Hoover, Taylorville, Ill., coach.

St. John made specific denials in the cases of the Workman brothers, Noel and Harry, whom Hoover inferred, were induced to leave Michigan to attend Ohio State. He also branded as false the charge "Chic" Harley had approached high school athletes in an effort to bring them to Ohio.

O'Dowd To Fight Hoosier Epstein

COLUMBUS — Professional boxing after a long period of stagnation during which amateur mitt slingers have held full sway, will again get going here next Wednesday, when Eddie O'Dowd, local bantam, meets Solly Epstein, Indianapolis.

Boxing Kayoed In Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — Boxing practically took the count today when promoters, fighters and unsuspecting bystanders, were summoned to police station to tell what they know at recent bouts.

Promoters claim they are observing the law which permits boxing to be staged by clubs.

Cam..., who has kept the lid clamped down airtight for a three-year term, said the clubs are mere shams and they are simply offering public boxing exhibits. Names of participants in recent bouts will be put before the grand jury for indictment next week.

HI TRACK MEET

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. — A track meet in which will compete Ohio and West Virginia high schools will be entertained here May 19, by Point Pleasant high school. New Haven, Pomeroy, Middleport, Gallipolis, Cheshire, Buffalo and Radley, Ohio, and Ravenswood and Ripley, W. Va., high schools, have accepted invitations.
